October 13-16, 2021
Tianjin, China

www.ieee-icct.org

The 21st IEEE ICCT | 2021 IEEE 21st International Conference on Communication Technology is organized by IEEE, Tianjin University, co-organized by UESTC, Science and Technology on Communication Networks Laboratory; sponsored by Xidian University, Beijing University of Posts and Telecommunications, Guangxi University, Chongqing University, Science and Technology on Communication Information Security Control Laboratory, Communication Society of Chinese Institute of Electronics; Technically Supported by Chongqing University of Posts and Telecommunications, Digital Communications and Networks, Journal of Electronics & Information Technology (JEIT), Sichuan Institute of Electronics, Chongqing Institute of Electronics, IEEE Singapore Section Education Chapter, and IEEE Sensors, Systems and China Councils Joint Chapter.

It will be held during October 13–16, 2021 in Tianjin, China.

Call for Papers

Topics of interest for submission include, but are not limited to:

- Track 1: Mobile communication and wireless transmission
- Track 2: Speech and signal processing
- Track 3: Network and Application Technology
- Track 4: Data communication and information security
- Track 5: Image processing and multimedia technology
- Track 6: Communication Engineering and Application

For more topics, please visit <http://www.ieee-icct.org/cfp.html>

Special Session

Space–Air–Ground Integrated Networks

For more information about special session, please visit
